My practice philosophy is best described by combining my personal mission and the Golden Rule: I truly enjoy caring for my patients—I find it personally fulfilling providing for their needs, addressing their concerns, and advocating for them in what can be a complex health care system. This is the kind of care I want for my own family and friends; this is what I want for my patients. And I am thrilled to be surrounded by staff and colleagues at St. Mary's Health Care –Ottawa who feel the same.
